

International Advocacy
ONLINE WORKSHOP
1-3 September 2021

FIGHTING LONELINESS AND PROMOTING INTERGENERATIONAL SOLIDARITY IN OUR CITIES

Rens Martijn
September 2021

overtref jezelf

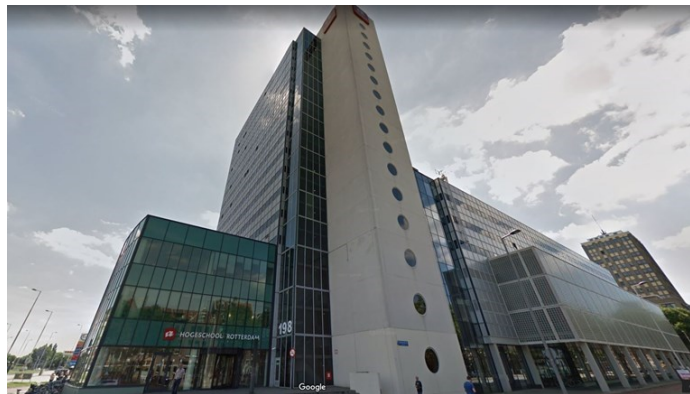

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Rotterdam University of Applied Sciences School of Health Care Studies

Rens Martijn, international coordinator and researcher and teacher in Nursing

The School of Health Care Studies of Rotterdam University of Applied Sciences offers bachelor, associate and master degree studies in the health care domain.

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

We are aware of the social importance of our mission and want to cooperate with all kinds of relevant partners to realize this.

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

(multidisciplinary) projects within the Rotterdam work field in close cooperation with professors and researchers from the Research Centre Innovations in Care

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

One of the challenges today and tomorrow increase of feelings of loneliness among elderly

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

- Society is challenged by a growing number of ageing people that live longer and age in place.
- A gaining group of elderly is also living alone and not receiving support from family, friends or neighbors.
- The lack of supportive relationships combined with an increasing need of support leads not only to a decrease in empowerment, but also to an increase of feelings of loneliness.

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

- Project FILO:
- Results

Researcher and professionals working on that

Important projects in dissemination of knowledge

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Who is going to use that knowledge?

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

The professionals of tomorrow

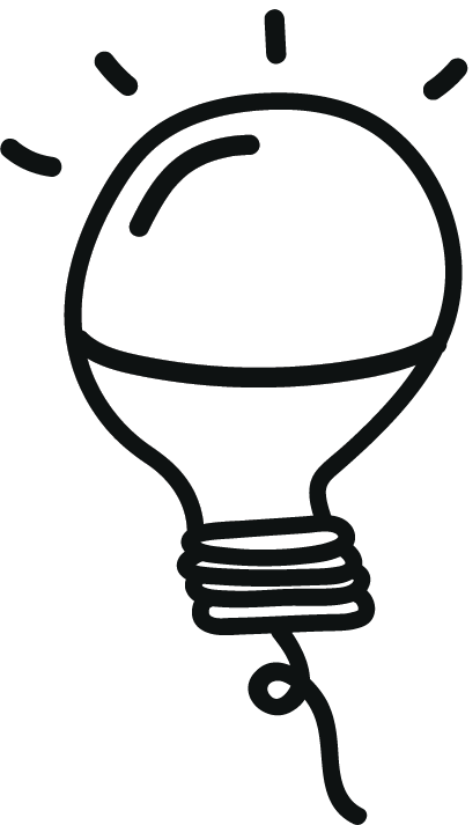

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Are the students of today

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

imagine

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

4000 health and social care students

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Learning together with elderly

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

from elderly

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

And elderly learn from the students

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

400 students a year learn from their grand parents in education

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Creating intergenerational Solidarity in education of bachelor students is a

Promoting Intergenerational Solidarity

Thanks,

Contact me if you want to know more!

Rens Martijn

l.f.j.martijn@hr.nl

